HAMMER & MOSSER, PROPRIETORS
DECATUR, ILLINOIS

Ratified by the Postmaster at Decatur, Illinois, as second class mail matter.

THIS DAY EVENING, OCT. 23, 1884.

BLAINE day to morrow.

Get ready and go with the excursion to Lincoln on Saturday evening.

The time fixed for the arrival of the Blaine train at Decatur to-morrow is 10 minutes past 12 o'clock. Be at the depot early, as the train is expected to be on time.

The New York Star says the Republican disaffection in that state will not exceed 10,000 votes and it is confined to New York City and Brooklyn.

The first speech made by Secretary Lincoln during the campaign was delivered at Mattoon yesterday, and was an able and earnest effort, which was listened to by an immense crowd.

There was a dastardly attempt, yesterday, to wreck Gen. Logan's train near Knoxville, Ill. It could not possibly have been done for any other purpose than to kill or seriously injure Gen. Logan.

The New York Star (Dem.) says that Cleveland was nominated by the Democrats in Chicago to please the "Independents" and the free-trade Republican newspaper of New York, after a full understanding with the editors and proprietors of the journals in question.

A prompt dispatch of yesterday says:

The Hon. Lawrence Sherman, who has been regarded for some time as on the fence, came out for Blaine and Logan to give a plug to the Logan reception. He is no Ishmael of any great prominence in this section in the Cleveland and Hendricks ranks.

Will the Review please note the above.

Parry contests have never reached so low a state of degradation in this or any other country," exclaims an "Independent" newspaper. The reason of this fact is that party contests in this country have never before had a gang of unprincipled "Independent" newspapers to drug them down and degrade them.

This announcement in this morning's Herold to the effect that Mr. Blaine would pass through Decatur to-day, has raised a good many inquiries as to the cause which moved the editor of that paper to commit such an egregious mistake. Some insist that it was a malicious purpose, upon the part of the very stalwart Herold, who controls the columns of the Herold, to keep people at home from to-morrow by disgusting them with a foreboding trip to the depot to-day. Others think it was done merely to produce a sensation and get people to talk about the Herold, while the most charitably disposed portion of the community excuse by saying that it is only another evidence of the Herold's propensity to blunder, which has given rise to the popular comment that "it never gets anything right." What ever the cause, be it malice, mischief or merely a willful mistake, it was one of those things for which no alibi excuse can be made.

Some one who does not know, or perhaps does not care, what he is talking about, has said that it is the duty of statesmen to make proper representations to the public, that Mr. Buckingham made a written statement of the receipts of the office at the beginning of every term of court, when it was approved by the judge, and placed on file.

If Mr. Buckingham, "at the beginning of every term of court," made a report to which was "placed on file," the most of them have disappeared from the files, for there are now only four such documents to be found among the papers in the circuit clerk's office. The Review should be more careful to speak by the card.

The official returns show that the Republican majority for Congress men in Ohio was 19,577. Five of the Democratic Congressmen were elected by majorities less than 500. Six of the ten Republican Congress men were elected by majorities exceeding 2,000, and nine by majorities exceeding 1,000. The majority of one Republican was 13,307, of a second Republican 7,638, of a third 6,153, of a fourth 5,514.

One of the characteristics of Mr. Blaine is the power of condensation. He can't tell you a volume in a sentence. Here is one of his most successful efforts in that direction. It occurred in a brief speech in Toledo.

There is not one great measure that the Republican party has adopted, nor one great step the party has taken since the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln in 1861, that the Democratic party has not opposed and has not considered unconstitutional. So that to-day to regard the government of the United States to the control of the Democracy is not merely an ordinary change of parties. It is a total reversal of the entire policy that has distinguished the government of the United

DEMOCRATS AND THE GERMAN'S.

Chairman Barger's Ill-Tempered Denunciation of the German Voters.

Columbus (O) Special.
It is related by a gentleman who chanced upon the honor and pleasure of a seat in a railway car beside the Hon. Gilbert H. Barger, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of the great and glorious Republican state of Ohio, that that gentleman was in a desperate frame of mind regarding the German population of said great and glorious Republic.

When he alluded to that class of our population his complexion became a deep yellow and green hue, and the bile runs out of his ears. He discloses the Queen's English in his endeavor to do justice to the occasion and the subject, and in profane language batters Uncle John Robinson's best time and most energetic efforts.

He says he is in favor of giving severe punishment upon the Germans for what he is pleased to term their treachery. He will advocate the submission of constitutional amendments for total prohibition, and he will see that such a measure is adopted at the next session of the General Assembly. Said he in his wrath:

"We are the party of freedom, of liberty. We never inflict odious laws upon them. We oppose all forms of summary legislation. We are the legitimate friends of the Germans. And yet when we call upon them in a great crisis, after fighting the battles for them, what do the d-d Dutch do? Why, they give us the cold shoulder, and go back to the party that put the Smith law, the stubbs law, and the Pond law on them. I am in favor of giving blank to the blanked Dutch, blank blank them. That seems to be what they want."

Mr. Barger is usually very quiet and gentlemanly, and it was evident he must have been deeply affected, either with profound emotion or really, wobbles or both. He, however, voiced the general sentiment of the Democracy on this point, who all talk as he does, and openly denounce and curse the "—— Dutch," and are altogether the maddest lot of people ever seen.

A Voice from Buffalo.
Cyrus (N.Y.) Examiner.

Reports have been circulated to the effect that the firm of Taylor & Crate, lumber dealers at Buffalo, New York, will vote for Cleveland, at the coming election. The following card from them to Mr. S. H. Hinman, their agent at this place, will speak for itself:

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 10, 1884.

"S. H. HINMAN; ORLEANS, ILL.
In reply to your note you may have published the following card, if you think best to do so:

"Neither of this firm will vote for Cleveland. We could not do it if he was on the Republican ticket; while he is a capable lawyer and a fellow citizen of ours, we do not regard him as a statesman, such as ought to be at the helm of the government, and we think him entirely unfit to be the successor of Washington, Lincoln and Garfield, as all reports that have been published in the public press with regard to his gross immorality are believed by many of our best citizens to be substantially true, and we learn from those who have been looking up the matter, that these immorality have been continued up to a recent date and are capable of proof whenever called for, and meeting with no denial from him. We cannot vote for any one but Blaine and Logan to fill the highest office in the gift of the Nation."
